Rick Eberle Band

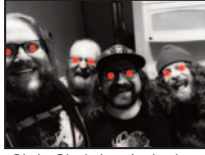

Rick Eberle has proven himself to be a unique and versatile singer, songwriter and guitarist on many sides of the musical spectrum; tempering both the yin and the yang of the Pop Rock genre by delivering psychologically hard hitting and sometimes dark lyrics on one song, and positive vibes with upbeat, hopeful melodies on the next.

Whale/Heart

Subterranean basement rockers serving up sonic walls of melody, warped jazz sounds, and twisting spaced out jams. Whale/Heart is Chris Clark (vox/guitar) Matt Orlando (vox/guitar) Devlin Webb (bass) Jack Marshall (keys) and Kevin Foran (drums).

Mark Newman

musical journey has taken him around the world several times as both sideman and singer/songwriter. This ace stringman (guitar, lap steel, mandolin, dobro) and accomplished songwriter is the type of singer whose warm and expressive voice sounds like an old friend. He put it all together on 2006's "Must Be A Pony" (Danal Music, LLC). In 2010 he took a quantum leap forward with the stunning "Walls Of Jericho" (Danal Music, LLC) and has just released, "Brussels" (Danal Music, LLC), a live solo EP. "Empirical Truth", his latest CD was released in June, 2018 (Danal Music, LLC, by WBA Records). It won best CD from the Long Island Blues Society.. marknewman.us

the Velvicks

like all the best rock and roll stories of the early 21st century, can be traced back to abasement. With influences from Pink Floyd, Queens of The Stone Age, Foo Fighters, The Black Keys, and Radiohead, the band delivers heart-pounding rock that is at once familiar and distinctive. The sounds of the band members individual experiences combined with a shared passion for authentic rock and roll. "Songs are making sense; the band is delivering badass live performances and people are responding to it." says Vick Nader www.thevelvicks.com

Sophia S

Teaching piano and vocal performance in the Hamptons since 2015. Two-time Best Female Musician Platinum in Dan's Papers. DMA Candidate, author of The Beatles: Sounds of Masculinity.

Mellish

Mellish's music sounds unhurried, from the dreamy murmur of "January Sun" to the foggy folk drift of "Are You With Me" an impressive mood piece colored by drifting pedal steel guitar riffs that unfurl like a slow-motion iTunes visualizer. While the band have spent decades cultivating their sound, which carries it atmospheric with a warmer, earthier slate of influences, including Neil Young and Floyd and Wilco. Slide guitar, pedal steel, and harmonica's fill in the margins; one of the better tracks, the somber, dramatic "Valerie" boasts an overture ornamented with harmonies, lush instrumentation, and atmospheric riffs, reminiscent of a Bad Seeds. avec-mellish.blogspot.com
